Cloud Migration Case Study

Cashpor Micro Credit's Success Story with Vaultastic

About Cashpor Micro Credit

Cashpor Micro Credit is a not-for-profit company that was founded in 1996 and is based in Varanasi, India. They provide micro finance to below poverty line women in eastern U.P., Bihar, Jharkhand, Chattisgarh and are servicing more than 0.8 million clients today. They also offer scholarships, health education, financial literacy, and community health facilitator training programs and insurance products. As the company provides micro finance services to some of the most remote areas of the country, it is imperative for them to keep their operational costs minimum, something that they found challenging with IT, prior to moving to Vaultastic.

THE CHALLENGE

All the user's at Cashpor access their mail from MS Exchange. With the earlier solution, they stored mail on their individual mailboxes, which have limited space, thus reducing the mail service performance when mailboxes filled up. Backups were taken on external storage devices and the mailboxes trimmed to keep up the performance levels. This was unproductive, as taking backups and trimming mailboxes depended on one person and the availability of external devices. Add to this, the growth in employees was leading to an increase in the storage infrastructure, which effectively resulted in increased cost.

THE SOLUTION

Vaultastic has automated backup and brought relief from the fear of running out of space. Cashpor can now set retention policies on their user's mailboxes, automating the trimming required to keep up the mail service performance. With the automation in place, they are no longer bothered by the increase in the number of users. Backups of the email in a separate operational infrastructure on the cloud support easy disaster recovery. Using ediscovery within Vaultastic, Cashpor can run complex searches across mailboxes of all users to discover useful information, and stay compliant with regulations.
